CSEG COFFEE TALK

Title: Making the Most of Version Control

Presenters: Steve Goldhaber

Date: Friday, 9 May 2014

Time: 12:00 - 1:00 (feel free to bring lunch)

Place: Mesa Lab – Damon Room

Abstract:
The CSEG Coffee Talks are a set of tutorials and practical talks, showing you tools and techniques for working with CESM more effectively and more productively. The talks are aimed at anyone who develops code for CESM; no advanced knowledge is assumed.

Does using subversion make you nervous? Do you avoid anything other than checkout? Not sure what is going on with those mysterious commands? Come to the coffee talk where we will pull back the curtain and show you how to use version control to help you be more productive. We will cover why we use version control, what all those svn commands really do, how to easily avoid mistakes, and things version control can do for you that you might not know. Experts will attend and be available after the main presentation to address your questions.

Webcast instructions:
     AUDIO – 1-866-740-1260 – Enter Access Code 4971358
     VIDEO – Go to www.readytalk.com under "join a meeting" enter access code 4971358

     Note: The conference is listen only, however, we will take questions through ReadyTalk's chat feature

For more information contact Barbara Ballard – bballard@ucar.edu